

22nd November 2017

Dear Members,

I am writing regarding selection of the venue for the 19th Meeting of the European Hair Research Society in 2020. The meeting will be held in Europe and the Board hereby formally invites applications to host this meeting.

Considerations for any Host should include:-

- ❖ Local organising committee; both academic and clinical members and name of principal contact person
- ❖ Congress venue, size and suitability for the nature of the congress. There may be up to 500 participants
- ❖ Accommodation close by and including some affordable for students
- ❖ Accessibility for International attendees; Airport with international access as well as good local access within Europe
- ❖ Financial Sponsorship; Venue attractiveness to sponsors with space for Company presentation booths
- ❖ Local organisation arrangements such as specialist Congress management company
- ❖ Social programme

Dates for the Congress can be flexible; members should note that the Society Investigative Dermatology meeting will be held in Arizona from May 12-16th 2020, which may mean international participants might already have this date reserved in their calendars.

Please address any questions to President Prof. Bianca Maria Piraccini or any member of the EHRS Board.

The Board would like to receive applications to include consideration of the above points, by 31st December 2017. The board will shortlist applications and the EHRS assembly will vote electronically in February to select the final venue. The location of the 2020 meeting will be announced at the 18th EHRS meeting in Bologna, 2018.

With kind regards

Prof. Bianca Maria Piraccini
EHRS President
